ABOUT ME

I am a web developer with a deep passion for backend technologies. I have worked on Odoo development projects and module migration for the Odoo Community Association (OCA). Currently, I am focused on the field of artificial intelligence, with a particular interest in machine learning and deep learning. Every day, I acquire more knowledge and skills in these areas, developing myself as a data scientist and data analyst. My commitment to continuous learning and experimentation drives me to keep growing in this exciting and dynamic field.
